DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Proprietor.

[Special to the Daily (Columbia) Chronicle.]

A UNION LEAGUE IN TROUBLE—A FOUL MURDER—SIX NEGROES TO BE HANGED—EIGHTEEN SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY.

PICKENS C. H., S. C., Oct. 28, 1867.

Two of the most extraordinary criminal cases ever known in South Carolina were tried in the recent Court of Common Pleas and General Sessions for Pickens District.

Nine colored persons and a white man, named Alexander Bryce, all members of a Union League, at Walhalla, were indicted for the murder of Miles M. N. Hunnicutt, a white youth, fourteen years of age, on the evening of the 12th instant, while the latter was present at a debating society, near Hunnicutt's Crossing, in Pickens District.

The prisoners were ably defended by Gen. McGowan, of Abbeville, Gen. Easley, of Greenville, and Messrs. Norton and Adams, of Pickens. The jury consisted of white men, three of whom are said to be members of the Union League, and were selected by the prisoners with the consent of the Solicitor, before the trial began.

It is a significant and noteworthy fact, that many of the former owners of the negroes arraigned in the two cases were also present, to offer bail, if such should be demanded, and to participate in the defence of the deluded freedmen. We are informed that quite a number contributed to the employment of counsel. The negro prisoners were of the lowest type, and as they stood silligned in the prison box, stolidly watching the proceedings, one could scarcely tell where the brute ended and man began. Bryce is a white man, of some intelligence, respectably connected and thirty five years of age. It is not long since he was a clerk in Columbia. The most searching examination of witnesses, both white and black, however, failed to prove any further complicity in the murder than he was the only white man present in the League, and gave the order to the armed negro guard to go and arrest the man (Bob Smith) who had disturbed their meeting. This was not deemed by the jury sufficient ground for conviction.

Altogether, about twenty witnesses were examined, among them Clark Cleveland, the President of the Union League; but the testimony is too long for our columns.

"The jury retired, and after an absence of half an hour, returned the following verdict:

"Guilty, with reference to December Gadsden, Nat. Frazier, John Keith, Jack Walker, Green Cleveland, Jr., and Jackson Henderson. Not guilty, with reference to Alexander Bryce, Capt. Deane, Bob Breckinridge and Isaac Adams."

The prisoners were sentenced to be hanged on the 6th of December next.

THE RIOT CASES.

On the day following the rendition of the above verdict, thirty accused and Alexander Bryce were tried for participation in the riot on the night of and day after the murder.

The evidence of witnesses, white and colored, proved that the Union League, after remaining in session all night—the members being ordered not to leave—was organized into a quasi military guard, and, armed and officered, went from house to house in the country, arrested white citizens and carried them off. That at one place they rudely tore a husband from his wife, who was then in an extremely delicate condition, and so frightened the poor woman that her health since is well nigh ruined. And that they made the most violent threats, and uttered denunciations which showed they were ripe for rebellion in its most fearful shape.

The Solicitor entered a nolle pros, in several of the cases, and the jury brought in a verdict of "Not Guilty," with reference to a few, but eighteen were convicted, notwithstanding the able efforts of counsel, and sentenced respectively as follows: (It may be remarked, parenthetically, that seven among the indicted ones were prisoners, among whom Elias Kennedy and Jim Keith appeared to be chief.)

Elias Kennedy, twelve months in penitentiary, to be released, on payment of $300, in thirty days; Isaac Brown, ditto; Green Cleveland, Clark Cleveland, Gen. Osopho Bradley, James Keith, Thomas Orr and David Singleton, each fourteen months in the penitentiary; John Butler, Captain Deane, Doctor Franklin, John Reed, Robert Breckinridge, George Wright, Ulysses Grant, Alexander Robinson, Amos Cummings and Lewis Young, each twelve months in the penitentiary.

THE EDITOR OF THE NEW YORK "WORLD."

Though very much unlike Henry Mackenzie's hero, Manton Marble is generally known in New York, and the country at large, as the "Man of the World." He is emphatically such, and no one who knows him can say that the World is not worthy of him. His rise in journalism has been rapid. He was hardly known ten years ago, and now his reputation is only second to that of Greeley, Bennett and Raymond as the editor-in-chief and director of one of the four great quartos of the metropolis. He is a native of Massachusetts, we believe, and began his career after taking his degree at College, in Boston. The story is that in his very early manhood he went, entirely unknown, into a newspaper office (the Traveller, we think,) in that city, and asked for a situation.

"What can you do?" inquired the managing editor.

"Anything at all," said the self-confident Marble. Try me on a leader, a paragraph, a criticism or a review; it's all the same to me."

"Have you ever had any journalistic experience?"

"No; but I have written a good deal, and I know I can suit you if you'll only give me a chance."

"Well, I like your self-reliance. It argues well, and I judge from your manner and conversation you are educated and have seen something of the world. (He had not seen so much of it then as he has since.) I am favorably impressed with you."

"Give me a trial; that is all I ask; I don't wish to sound my own praises. I want to work; I have long had a fancy for journalism; and I intend to write for some newspaper; if not for this, for some other."

"That's the right spirit, young man.—Now I remember Forrest plays Lear to-night, and I have no one to send to the theatre.—Will you undertake the job?"

"Certainly. Can I write at length?"

"Yes, you shall have two columns, and I'll see what you can do."

The next morning the journal contained two columns of graceful, learned and often brilliant criticism of the actor, with a careful examination of the text, a reference to Scotch history and a fine analysis of the character, which delighted the managing editor, charmed his readers and secured Marble a position at once at what was then regarded in the City of Notions as a liberal salary.

Mr. Marble remained on the Boston press for several years; but, desiring a larger field for his journalistic capacity, came to New York soon after the World was started as a one cent religious paper. He went into the office first, we think, as a general writer, but soon became the managing editor, and afterwards the editor-in-chief. Through all the changes of the paper he not only retained his place, but rose higher and higher, and secured a larger and larger interest in the establishment. To what extent he is a partner in the World no one knows; but he is supposed to own at least a quarter or a third of it, for he almost entirely controls and directs its political and journalistic course. He has never had connection with any other newspaper in the city, but has given all his energy, time and talents to the building up of the World, which is now the ablest as well as the most prominent democratic organ in the country.

The journal, though it is quite economically managed, has always contrived to have some of the best writers on its staff of editors and correspondents that are to be found in the metropolis. And this selection of able men for the different departments has been made by Mr. Marble, who seems to have, like Charles A. Dana, the rare faculty of getting the right men in the right place.

Some say they are in "luck again;" some say "they have hit the nail on the head;" some "selling out at cost," some to "make room for a new stock;" some one thing and some another. But allow me to say, whether I am in luck, or whether I hit the nail on the head, or whether I missed the nail entirely, or failed to advertise "selling out at cost," I have sold out my old stock, (while they are still hammering away over their old stock,) and have been North and bought a new stock. I told my customers, six months ago, that I would sell goods as cheap as leaders, now or Gentle, and I think I have made my word good.

GEN. CANBY'S LATE ORDER.

We understand that considerable use is being made of Gen. Canby's late order, by the Radicals, in the hope of making it work to the further disfranchisement of white persons in the State. It is perfectly palpable, that the white majority in the State alarms the Radicals greatly, and if, by any means, good or bad, true or false, they can reduce that majority, it will be done.

It must be clear to every one, that, already, the number of white persons in the State, who are disfranchised and who have declined to register, is very large. There are two white persons in the State to every one colored person. If the colored people of the State are justly entitled, under the Reconstruction Acts, to 70,000 voters, then, of course, according to the usual mode of computation, the whites are entitled, if none were disfranchised, to 140,000 voters. The whites have only registered about 95,000, while the blacks have registered 70,000. No one believes that there are 45,000 disfranchised voters in the State. Yet it is palpable that every effort will be made to defraud as many of the Conservative whites, as possible, out of their privilege to vote.

We call upon the Conservative men, every where, to register and fill up any falling off occasioned by this effort to reduce the white vote. Do not allow yourselves to be disfranchised, otherwise than as the law and the orders of the Military absolutely require. Many of the Registrars are liable to be misled by the strenuous efforts of the Radicals to reduce the Conservative vote.

Gen. Canby's order, taking the registration lists as his guide, simply arranges the exceptions to the registration of individuals, as marked on the lists, so as to let the Registrars see, at a glance, what class are sufficient to exclude from registration those persons who held office before the war, and, also, those exceptions made by the Registrars or others, which do not exclude such persons. He then gives some other exceptions, not noticed by the Registrars, which would exclude such officers.

We find, however, that some persons, who have looked over the order, have, without reflection, concluded that they are disfranchised, because their cases happen to be named as either holding offices during the war, or participating in the rebellion,—forgetting that they are not meant, unless they filled the prohibited offices before the war.

Bear in mind, that Gen. Canby has not changed the fundamental character of the law, though General Sickles and himself may have excluded some persons from registration, whom many other persons think are not disfranchised by the law itself.

They have construed the law, as authorized to do, very liberally, it would seem, not confining themselves to the letter, but drawing very largely upon its spirit and intent, so as to exclude as many as possible of that class of men in the State who, by education, position, experience, and integrity, are best qualified to revise and draw up the organic law of the State.

But remember, that no man is excluded, who did not hold office BEFORE THE WAR, and who did not also hold the prohibited office, during the war, or otherwise participate in the "rebellion," or "give aid and comfort to the enemy."

THE UNIVERSAL negro suffrage features of the military Reconstruction Bills were not adopted in consequence of the decision of Republican caucuses. On the contrary, they were passed against these decisions, and because they were not adhered to.—We have the authority of the New York Times (Republican) for this assertion. At every Republican caucus, held in the session of 1866, on the subject, the vote was two to one against universal negro suffrage and in favor of a qualified suffrage. Mr. Stevens, being out-voted, declared that he would not be governed by the decision; and when the bill (relating to the District of Columbia) came to a vote in the House, he and all the rest of the ultra Radicals voted, in spite of the decision in caucus, against giving the negroes a qualified suffrage, as did all the Democrats. It was thus defeated, and when the question was next taken, on giving them universal suffrage, all the Republicans voted for it,—as the only way to secure the colored people any vote whatever. Mr. Stevens and his followers refused the ballot to any negroes, unless all could have it; and thus the minority forced their views upon the party, in direct opposition to the decision of the Republican party.

COL. D. M. CARTER'S LETTER.

We publish, to-day, the letter of Colonel Carter to Hon. John Pool, by special request, and out of personal courtesy to Col. C., but we cannot do so, without expressing our dissent from most of its teachings. Duty to our readers, and to the public, may compel us to review it, or to reply to its positions.

THE ELECTIONS in the South are "so-called Reconstruction elections." The recent conservative victories at the North are real restoration elections.

THE BOARDS of health of New Orleans and Mobile have declared that the yellow fever is no longer epidemic.

THE ELECTIONS.

The latest accounts from the Northern elections are the most favorable that we have received, and are full of hopeful augury for the country.

In New York, the Democratic and Conservative majority is fully 40,000,—a gain, since last year, of about 55,000 votes. The Democrats and Conservatives have, also, a majority in the lower house of the Assembly and on joint ballot. The Senate would, likewise, have been anti-Radical, but for the fact that a number of Republican Senators hold over from last year.

New Jersey, which was overwhelmingly Republican or Radical, last year, has turned completely round, and the enemies of the Constitution and the Union have been routed at every point in the State.

From the other States, the news is equally cheering—for the details of which, the reader is referred to our telegraphic columns.

Never, in the history of the country, has there been so tremendous a rebuke to any party, as has been pronounced against Radicalism. Its days are numbered. The jury that have held inquisition over its hideous corpse are California, Maine, Montana, Kansas, Wisconsin, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, New Jersey, Maryland, Minnesota and New York,—just twelve in number,—and Massachusetts asking to be one of the Grand Inquest.

The verdict is sealed that the Constitutional Union shall yet be restored, and that the Anglo Saxon race shall rule America.

PROPOSED STATE CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION.—The Wilmington Journal heartily approves the suggestion of the Conservatives of Wake for a State Convention on the 11th of December. It well says:

"This meeting should be held. Every county in the State should be represented. No man can tell how great and important may be the questions to be submitted to the people of North Carolina within the next twelve months. Citizens cannot afford to stand one side and deplore all political agitations—none will be justified in pleading a life-long indifference to politics as an excuse for non-action—no one can turn aside from the uninviting position to which political aspirations and public stations have been degraded and exclaim, "Procul, O, procul este, profani," as an exoneration for neglect of public duties in this crisis. The issue is upon us and we must meet it. Every principle, every interest dear to the people of North Carolina, is at stake. Action, firm, united action, can save all. Indifference and division will lose all, and individual welfare and happiness, and State prosperity will not survive the defeat of the whites and the success of the blacks. Let meetings be held. Let us adopt the day suggested by the citizens of Wake. We must organize, or our dearest rights and privileges will be the victims of our indifference."

We would simply add that the intervening time is short,—only about a month. Our friends, if they desire that the Convention should be held, must move promptly and at once. Let there be no delay in arriving at a conclusion.

No CONSERVATIVE white citizen, in the South, is afraid or ashamed to be known as such. Every such a man pins his faith upon his front, proclaims it openly, and is proud of his principles and his associations. He walks about in the day-time and looks his fellow white men squarely in the face. He can afford to do this, for his conscience doesn't upbraid him, and he is free from the mental reproach that he is nursing schemes for the ruin of his brethren, and the elevation of an inferior race upon the degradation of his neighbors.—The two recent immense meetings in this City show who are the Conservatives, and two such meetings, in all the elements that go to make up respectable assemblages, have rarely, at any time, been seen in Raleigh.

BEGINNING OF "RECONSTRUCTION" IN ALABAMA.—The so-called Reconstruction Convention assembled in Montgomery, on the 5th inst. On the 6th, resolutions were passed, authorizing the raising of proper Standing Committees and the memorializing of Congress to remove the political disabilities of all who materially aided "re-construction." An Ordinance was introduced to restore all property sold by Executors and Administrators, during the war, for Confederate currency, to the legal heirs of estates, without suit in Court. This is about such a beginning as might have been expected, and is simply the entering wedge to further rascalities.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.—The regular session of this Court, for the District of Cape Fear, was opened, in Wilmington, on Tuesday. The Wilmington Star says that Judge Brooks' charge was a political harangue. The most melancholy evidence of the demoralization of the times, under Radical teachings, is the numerous similar conversions of the bench into a hustings. We had hoped that North Carolina would be spared the spectacle.

IS IT TRUE?—That J. H. Harriss, the Radical negro nominee for the Convention, has frequently declared that not one-tenth of his race were fit to vote?

That Mr. J. P. Andrews, one of the white Radical candidates, has repeatedly avowed, of late, that under no circumstances could he ever be induced to vote for a negro?

THE QUESTION of negro-suffrage, though shirked by the Radicals, was the leading issue in New York,—almost as much as it was in Ohio, Kansas and Minnesota. So far as those States are concerned, a death-blow has been given to unqualified negro-suffrage and negro supremacy in America. The majority against it in these four States is more than 100,000.

ORANGE.—A Convention of the Conservatives of Orange was held in Hillsboro, on Saturday last. Major John W. Graham and Dr. E. M. Holt were unanimously nominated for the Convention. They have both accepted and will enter upon an active canvass. It is an admirable ticket.

ROWAN AND DAVIE.—Messrs. W. M. Robbins, M. L. Holmes and R. F. Johnston are the Conservative candidates for the Convention in this "voting district." They are vigorously canvassing and will be elected.

For the Sentinel.

Letter from Col. D. M. Carter.

WASHINGTON, N. C., Nov. 1st, 1867.

Hon. John Pool:—

My Dear Sir:—You and I have long acted harmoniously in politics. You had my sympathy and active aid in your canvass of the State as the Union candidate for Governor in 1860. Much of that heartfelt reluctance in North Carolina to quit the Union, which was so strongly expressed in February, 1861, by twenty thousand majority of her voters refusing even to permit the assembly of a Convention to consider the question of Secession, was due to your able and manly discussion of that detestable heresy.

From the secession of this State, until August, 1864, I was in the Confederate army, and claim to have discharged every duty there which the honor of a soldier exacted, to the best of my skill and ability. If I had continued in the military service, I should have been found with Gen. Lee at Appomattox.

Such was, and is, my conception of the duty of a soldier.

In August, 1864, I was re-elected a member of the Legislature of North Carolina, and at its first session we renewed our political co-operation.

The military situation of the Confederacy was at that time very grave, and indeed, I considered it utterly hopeless. While in the military service I could not, consistently with duty, make known my well-grounded apprehensions; but when I became a legislator, it was imperative on me to disclose them. Such was then, and is now, my view of the respective obligations of the two positions.

The failure of the peace party to accomplish the desirable object for which it labored, and the causes of that failure, are too well known to need recapitulation. The purpose of that party was to secure an honorable peace, upon the basis of a restoration of the Union of equal States, an oblivion of political offences of individuals, and the acknowledgement of the abolition of slavery, as a result of the war undertaken in the interest of that institution. We did not think it too late, even then, by prompt submission to the rightful authority of the general government, to revive Mr. Lincoln's favorite scheme of compensated emancipation.

We should have had the aid of a friendly public opinion in the Northern States to solve the perplexing questions resulting from the war, and have kept the settlement of them in our own hands. With considerable armies yet in the field, and a record of military achievements of which any nation might well be proud, we could have closed a long and fierce war upon terms consistent with our own self-respect, and honorable to our adversaries. I do not recall these matters now, to taunt those in authority then, with their neglect of this golden opportunity of statesmanship; nor for the purpose of vindicating the action of the peace party in North Carolina. Time has exposed the wisdom of that movement, by revealing the consequences of prosecuting a hopeless war to the point of subjugation. At any time from the commencement of the Session of the Legislature in November 1864, till the capture of Petersburg in April 1865, the voice of North Carolina would have commanded peace. Her geographical position, which had compelled her to secede in 1861, or be ground to powder between Virginia and her Southern neighbors, gave her in 1864 a potential voice in the Confederacy—because the State had more troops in the war than any other Southern State, and because a transit through her territory was indispensable. As this geographical position had been used to force the State against her will out of the Union, I thought it ought to be employed to secure her return, when by a turn in the condition of affairs, it became a source of strength and influence instead of weakness. But the excitements of war suppressed all the suggestions of prudence, and the contest of arms was continued until every soldier in the Confederacy was a prisoner of war, its government dispersed, its cities in flames, and at least seventy-five per cent. of the value of all the property of the South forever annihilated!

It is idle to recount all these mistakes and calamities, unless we can learn some useful lesson from them, for guidance through the thickening disasters which threaten to overwhelm us.

I think the moral from them is easy to be drawn, if we are candid and truthful. But let me recapitulate briefly a few other facts in our history, subsequent to the termination of the great rebellion. Our position was that of a subjugated people, entirely at the mercy of our conquerors. We had surrendered without terms, and there were no precedents in our history to indicate our treatment. That was, under the circumstances, solely a question of policy with our conquerors, in the consideration of which, they would naturally look more to their own interests than to ours.

Three several plans have been proposed for the settlement of the status of the rebel States, (I suppose history will give us that designation.) The first, known as the President's plan, is placed upon the theory that the States are indestructible, and the connection with the Federal Government not separable by their own will, and that attempted secession was void ab initio in law.

I firmly believe that this plan would have been as acceptable to the North, as it was to the South, if our people had displayed the proper spirit of submission to the Government. If they had elected Unionists and Submissionists to Congress instead of rampant Secessionists—if they had not proclaimed their intention to repudiate the public debt so loudly—if they had shown a more social and friendly disposition to Northern people settling among us—if there had been none of those bloody riots, excited by political animosities, which have disgraced some of our Southern Cities, this plan would have met a happier fate. North Carolina and Virginia sent delegates to Congress who were not obnoxious, but this was not the case with many of the other Southern States.

The President's plan failed, because the Northern people believed that the Southern people were still disloyal in sentiment and purpose to the government,—that they sought admission into the Union, with a hostile intent, and with the expectation of renewing the scenes of 1860—61. It was this belief, more than any objection to the theory of the President's plan, which caused its rejection by those vast majorities which displayed the earnestness of the North.

Next followed the first plan submitted by Congress—known as the Howard Amendment to the Constitution, or as Article Fourteen. This was submitted to the Legislatures of the several Southern States, and rejected by them all, by votes approaching unanimity. It ought to have been accepted by as unanimous a vote as refused it.

Its rejection was that kind of political blunder which Talleyrand denounced.

We are now to consider and decide the third of the series, known as the Congressional Plan. This will be voted on by a portion of the people of North and South Carolina, within a few days.

It is a matter of the highest possible interest to the people of these States, that their decision of this momentous question should be expedient and wise.

I feel bound to say that the practical effect of our subjugation was to divest us of all control over the settlement of our future relations with the Union. Whatever voice we have in the matter was bestowed by the United States Government, and is not a matter of right under the Constitution or laws of Nations.

But by the action of the government it is referred to us to decide whether we will call a Convention under the present plan of Congress, or not.

Let us now examine with all candor "the situation."

No man can consistently vote for a Convention unless he is prepared to go further and support the Congressional plan of reconstruction. That plan embraces universal negro suffrage, and limited white suffrage.—It clothes with the highest rewards and privileges of citizenship every negro in the State, and it puts under ban for life the most intelligent and capable of the whites. This discrimination is obliged to be incorporated in the State Constitution virtually. There are half a dozen conditions precedent to the admission of a State under this plan. By it, half the Southern States are placed forever under the absolute sway of emancipated slaves; and an interminable vista of strife and fierce rivalry opened before our eyes in our own State, ending in barbarism, or in the overthrow of republican government.

Many persons think they can vote for a Convention, and at the same time for delegates, who will not carry out the Congressional programme, and that thereby a reconstruction, consonant with their views, could be consummated. This is a palpable mistake.

If this Convention should be called by the people, and should then refuse to effectuate the Congressional plan, but undertake to substitute a State Constitution of their own, such action would be regarded by Congress as more contumacious than a refusal to call a Convention at all. The collision with Congress would be direct, and an issue made in the most irritating manner. But by refusing to call the Convention we postpone this strife, and allow time for peaceful counsels to prevail. We avoid the enormous expense of a useless, inharmonious Convention. We avoid the disgrace of assembling a body to form our organic law, whose hands are tied—whose work is done for them in advance—who have no free will of their own, and who do not represent a free constituency.

We thereby show no disloyal feeling to the Government of our country, or to the public sentiment of the people of the North. On the contrary, we put ourselves in accord with that sentiment. We obey its teachings, and we point to Connecticut, to California, to Ohio, to Pennsylvania, as proofs of it. Every breeze wafted from the North brings to our ears the joyful whisperings of peace and reconciliation.

Many persons fear confiscation as a consequence of a refusal to reconstruct under the Congressional plan. I do not share their terrors. The result of the rebellion was a practical confiscation of more than half the property of the South. If this has not produced loyalty, the robbery of the other half will not create that sentiment.

If it has not inflicted punishment enough to satisfy justice, further plunderings will not mitigate ferocity. In truth, confiscation would fall more heavily on the creditors of the victim, than on the victim himself, in most cases. The bankrupt law will confiscate unfortunate thousands.

I repeat that what the North demands of the South is not this plan or the other, but loyalty. If our people will demonstrate their wish to identify themselves with their Government in feeling and sentiment—to defend it and support it, as their ancestors did,—the expectant North will throw this plan to the winds, and receive us with open arms. Without loyalty a reconstruction of governmental authority will be made good at all hazards by force; with loyalty, we can have the restoration of a parental government by peaceful means.

Let the people rise up and reject this Congressional plan; because it is penal in its operation, because it confounds the guilty and the innocent, because it discriminates against intelligence in favor of ignorance, because it foments hostility between the whites and blacks, because it engenders disloyalty now, and fosters that feeling in the breasts of the next generation.

The kindly and forgiving spirit of Abraham Lincoln does not pervade a line of it. Every message addressed by him to Congress—every proclamation published to the people, and both his inaugurals, rebuke it. The solemn pledge and plighted faith of the American Congress is violated by it.

Again, the Convention is to be elected, and called together, by military orders, under the terrorism of martial law. Men fear to discuss its demerits, with bayonets at their backs and military arrests in prospect.

Such an election will not be free, in any sense of the word: and this is a fatal objection to such a Convention.

Since the rejection of the Howard Amendment, many important events have occurred to produce great changes in the mind and temper of the South. Time is cooling the feverish excitements of the war, under which that measure was rejected.

Our people have been brought, face to face, with possible calamities, greater than any which have yet befallen us. Confiscation, negro domination, and the probable loss of the most profitable and magnificent monopoly in the world—that of cotton—have brought the most hot headed and inconsiderate among us to reflect upon the ruinous consequences of further conflict with their rightful government.

Now is the auspicious time for that government to renew its offers of clemency, and its invitation to participate in the heritage of a glorious ancestry.

What will be the result, if the people decline calling a Convention? I cannot tell certainly; but my belief is, that if the Northern people ascribed its rejection to the right motives, and to a certain deference to their latest elections, which they undoubtedly will, then such rejection will be followed by no evil consequences.

Let the South display the nerve which the situation requires, and all will yet be well. That nerve does not consist in ludicrous attempts to defy a government, which has conquered us in fair fight, and which has the power to exterminate us. It does consist in a manly and dignified propitiation of our government by an unreserved allegiance. Disloyalty will never open the gates of the Union to us; and loyalty will not have to knock long for admission.

The only problem in our situation, difficult of solution, is the future status and relation of the colored race. They are citizens of the country, and, as such, have an interest in its welfare. They are entitled to sufficient weight and participation in the government to insure their protection. The most liberal and enlightened States in the North have bestowed a qualified suffrage upon them. Massachusetts requires educational, and New York property qualifications. Can we do better than apply similar tests here? Note the fact that such qualifications are powerful stimulants to the acquisition of knowledge and property,—that the class excluded by such tests is always diminishing; and the ballot will be within easy reach of every frugal and intelligent colored man. This settlement of the subject has been satisfactory at the North to both races, and is no crude and dangerous experiment with a grave matter.

In the present stage of this question, I believe the method of qualified suffrage to be the safest, speediest, and most satisfactory compromise and solution of it, for the best interests of both races. In all the discussions of colored citizens' interests I have sought to be their friend, but not their champion. I strove in the Legislature, in 1866, for their right to testify in all cases, in all our Courts of justice. In March last I sat in a political Convention with them at Raleigh. Believing the bestowment of suffrage upon them, either qualified or universal, to be a foregone conclusion, it seemed to me the narrowest prejudice to exclude them from assemblages where they could best learn, in friendly discussion, their rights and duties.

You will first see this letter in the newspapers, and while I would be glad to know that you approve my views of what the crisis demands, yet I am constrained by the pressure of time to publish it without delay.

I will close this too long communication with a suggestion disconnected with politics. The cotton crop of North Carolina, and perhaps of the whole South, will not pay the cost of its production, shipment and taxes, at the present prices. The people ought to petition Congress for relief from the onerous tax imposed on this staple. Let the people avail themselves of the occasion of the approaching elections to circulate respectful memorials to Congress, for signature, asking a remission of the tax on the present crop, and forward these memorials to influential members of Congress. Perhaps one-third of the present crop has been produced by partnership between the planters and laborers, and thus both classes have a deep interest in the removal of the tax. Instead of employing a corrupt lobby to achieve this result, let the people appeal directly to Congress for relief.

I am, Sir, with great respect,
Your obedient servant,
D. M. CARTER.

Special telegram to the Richmond Dispatch.

ARMED MILITARY ORGANIZATIONS IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DISBANDED BY ORDER OF THE PRESIDENT—GEN'L GRANT EXECUTES THE ORDER—NEGROES ASTONISHED AT THE DECREE.

WASHINGTON, November 5.—The announcement in these dispatches this morning that the President had issued orders to General Grant to have the armed military organizations in the District of Columbia disbanded created quite a stir in this community. In the early part of the day speculation as to whether General Grant would execute the order took possession of quid nunes, but when it became known at a late hour that the General had not only given proper directions to his subordinate officers to carry out the Executive fiat, but likewise admitted the illegality of these organizations, public opinion settled down into something like astonishment at the sudden disbanding of the military companies and the promptness with which the order was executed. Yesterday the negro military companies paraded the streets and kept up the movement until the "wee sma' hours of night." At this hour the colored populations are just beginning to realize the effect of the Executive decree that their military occupation is gone.

THE NEWLY ENFRANCHISED VOTERS REFUSE TO PAY TAXES—A ROW WITH THE SHERIFF.—On Saturday Sheriff Curtis, of Hampton, having some taxes to collect from the newly made voters of his district, proceeded to a plantation on the Newport News road in charge of the Freedmen's Bureau, and known as the "Bates Farm," for this purpose. He found that although prompt to the call of the Rads to vote, they were not prepared to exercise any of the other rights of their citizenship, and especially averse to paying their taxes. They remonstrated, and the Sheriff persisted in his demand, but without success.

They, no doubt, thinking that "might makes right," formed en masse and charged upon the Sheriff, who retired in good order, leaving the registered voters in possession of the field. Their victory, however, was of short duration. The Sheriff fell back to the fort and reported progress to the General commanding, who gave him a guard of some twenty soldiers.

With this force he again advanced upon the belligerents, who being alarmed at the sight of the boys in blue, fell back, leaving the Sheriff in possession of the field. He proceeded to seize enough of the crops, farming implements, &c., to make Uncle Sam square, and returned to Hampton with his spoils.

This is the first victory over the unterrified, and is, no doubt, the forerunner of many more such scenes all through the South.—Paying taxes is something the negroes have never yet done, and they are very loth to commence now.—Norfolk Journal.

THE BORDER AGRICULTURAL FAIR.—This Fair, we are pleased to learn, proved to be a great success. There was a fine attendance of people. The Danville Times says:

"The display of horses is splendid, and the samples of bright tobacco surpass anything we have ever beheld before. There is every variety of machinery from every portion of the country, and we notice samples of wheat and corn that reflect great credit upon the farmers who raised them. Some of the finest vegetables we ever saw, are also on exhibition. Nor have the ladies been behind hand in contributions of samples of their handiwork. We shall do justice to their department at some future time.

At about half past twelve, A. M., Major Sutherlin, the President of the society, rose and delivered the opening address. His speech was short, but conceived in fine taste, and delivered in excellent style. When he concluded, after some excellent music from the Salem band, the President introduced to the audience the Hon. Abram Venable, from North Carolina, who delivered a speech of great ability.

We are confident we do him no more than justice, when we say he delivered the best agricultural speech we ever heard."

Special dispatch to the Star.

PHILADELPHIA, November 4.—A letter from Lancaster, received here this morning, says that Thaddeus Stevens is slowly recovering from his illness, and there is a fair prospect that he will be able to be in Washington on the assembling of Congress He has a bill already prepared, which he will introduce, providing for universal suffrage in all the States by act of Congress. Also, a bill defining the status of executive and judicial officers pending their trial on articles of impeachment; and a bill similar to the one introduced in the Thirty-ninth Congress relative to the confiscation of public enemies' property. Mr. Stevens will also propose that the Joint Committee on Reconstruction be revived, for the purpose of examining the constitutions and State organizations of such States as have been reconstructed under the laws of Congress.

RECOVERED.—We are glad to be able to report Major D. G. McRae as sufficiently recovered from his late attack (brought on by his recent imprisonment at Fort Macon) to be able to be on the street again.

On a very pleasant occasion last week, we spent the evening in his company, and found him, as he always is, full of humor, fun and frolic, and one of the most agreeable companions that one can fall in with during these melancholy times.—Fayetteville News.

WHITE RADICALS.—About one thousand white men in Virginia, says the Fredericksburg News, voted for Radical candidates to the Convention. Of these about five hundred are transient citizens, officers and adventurers, who have no permanent interest in this State, who do not expect to remain here to bear the burden and share the shame or glory in this reconstruction work. About one half of the remaining five hundred Radicals are low, base men of bad character, and utterly incompetent to select men to frame a constitution.

Friday Morning Dispatches.

GEN. GRANT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7, P. M.

There seems to be no doubt that the statement that General Grant is in harmony with the Republican party, as set forth in the Press and Chronicle, of this morning, was made with his consent.

Ben Wade is sorry about the Republican disposition to run Grant. He says, "let him come out like a man, and show his principles."

Thurlow Weed's wing of the Republicans have proclaimed for Grant.

This morning's Tribune, in an article attributed to Greeley, is strongly for Chase, and depreciative of Grant, saying: "Gen. Grant we esteem by no means a great man, nor even a very great General. The war being over we can no longer carry elections by reading bulletins of Union victories and exhorting the people to rally round the flag, and those who are pushing Gen. Grant for President will land just where the Whigs did with Scott in '52, if they are allowed to pave their own way. They utterly mistake the time of day."

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—P. M.

Hon. J. A. Seddon, late Secretary of War of the Confederate States, has been pardoned.

A reliable letter from Lancaster says that Stevens is worse, but comes to Washington on the assembling of Congress.

Gen. Emory, who commands the District Department, has forbidden military parades, but endorses on the order that martial law no longer exists in the District, and he does not see by what authority he can disarm and disband private military companies.

In a reported conversation Wade is represented as saying that Congress would never modify the reconstruction laws, but would make them harder if the South did not behave better.

He characterizes Stevens' confiscation bill as unwise.

THE COTTON CROP.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7, P. M.

The Agricultural Bureau report for October says that present indications place the cotton crop at 2,500,000 bales. It will certainly exceed 2,000,000 bales.

FROM CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 7, P. M.

Gen. Canby, having suspended all municipal elections, it is understood that the present Mayor and Council, whose term has now expired, will continue in office.

ALABAMA RECONSTRUCTION CONVENTION.

MONTGOMERY, Nov. 7, P. M.

A Committee of 13 was raised to report by what authority Lewis E. Parsons became Provisional Governor of Alabama And also the effect of the State Constitution of September 1865, and subsequent legislation. And what is the present political status of Alabama.

Pope by invitation took a seat on the President's stand.

FROM RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, Nov. 7, P. M.

The Conservatives of Virginia will hold a State Convention in this City on the 11th of December.

Gen. Schofield has consented that a mixed commission of U. S. officers and citizens shall take a census of the Wards in which a fraudulent vote is suspected.

LOUISIANA REPUBLICANS.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 7—M.

R. King Cutler has organized the "Union party" of Louisiana, on the basis of "Universal Suffrage, Universal Amnesty, Universal Education and Opposition to Confiscation." He has chosen the Times and Republican, of this city, as organs. But the two organs don't work together, —calling each other "flunky Confederate and mendicant Loyalist." In fact, both seem to regard the new party with suspicion.

MEXICO.

HAVANA, Nov. 6.

Late advices from Mexico state that a revolution for the overthrow of Juarez is momentarily expected to break out.

DAILY SENTINEL.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1867.

From the Pittsburg Republican.

THE HORSE—HIS MEMORY AND SAGACITY.

An aged and venerable friend, residing in one of the cities on our Eastern seaboard, a gentleman of character and worth, once related to us the following anecdote of the horse, illustrating in a remarkable manner the sagacity and memory of this animal:

"At the close of the Revolutionary war, when everything was unsettled and in disorder, an acquaintance, residing on the Boston road, some thirty or forty miles from New York, lost a valuable young horse, stolen from his stable in the night. Great search and inquiry was made for him, but no tidings of him could be heard, and no trace of him could ever be discovered.

"Almost six full years had now elapsed and the recollection even of the lost animal had nearly faded from the mind. At this period a gentleman from the East, in the course of business, was traveling on horseback on this road, on his way to Philadelphia. When within four or five miles of a village on the road, the traveler was overtaken by a respectable looking gentleman on horseback, a resident of the village, returning home from a short business ride.—Riding along side by side they soon engaged in a pleasant desultory conversation. The gentleman was immediately struck with the appearance of the traveler's horse. And every glance of the eye cast toward him seemed to excite an interest and curiosity to look at him, and to revive a recollection of something he had seen before, and soon established in his mind the impression that for all the world he looked like the horse he had lost some six years ago. This soon became so irresistibly fixed in his mind that he remarked to the traveler:

'You have a fine horse, sir.'

'Yes,' he replied, 'an exceedingly valuable and excellent animal.'

'What is his age, sir?'

'Well, I suppose him to be about ten or twelve years old.'

'You did not raise him, then?'

'No; I purchased him of a stranger, a traveler, nearly six years since.'

'Do you reside in this part of the country?'

'No, I reside in the Bay State, and am on my way to Philadelphia, on business. How far is it to New York?'

'Well, sir, I really regret to interrupt you, or put you to inconvenience, but I am constrained to say I believe you have in your possession a horse that I must claim.'

The traveler looked with surprise and amazement, and replied:

'What do you mean, sir?'

'I believe the horse you are now on, in truth, belongs to me. Five years ago, the past autumn, a valuable young horse was stolen from my stable. Great search was made for him, but no tidings of him ever came to hand. In color, appearance and movements, it seems to me he was the exact counterpart of the horse you are on. It would be hardly possible, I think, for two to be so near alike. But my horse was an uncommonly intelligent, sagacious, animal. And I will make a proposition to you that will place the matter in such a position that the result will be conclusive and satisfactory, I think, to both of us. We are now within a mile of my residence, which is on the road in the center of the village before us. When we arrive at my house, your horse shall be tied to the east post in front of my door—the horse I am on to the west post. After standing a short time, the bridle of your horse shall be taken off, and if he does not go to a pair of bars on the west side of the house, and pass over, and go around to the east side of the barn, and pull out a pin, and open the middle stable door and enter, I will not claim him. If he does, I will furnish you conclusive evidence that he was bred by me, but never sold; that he was stolen from me at the conclusion of the war, about the very time you say you purchased him.'

The traveller assented to the trial. The horse was hitched to the post as proposed; stood a few minutes; the bridle was then taken off; he raised his head, pricked up his ears, looked up the street, then down the street several times, then deliberately and slowly walked past the house and over the bars and to the stable door, as described, and with teeth and lips drew out the pin and opened the door, and entered into his own stall. We hardly need to add he was recognized by his neighbors, who fully attested the facts stated by the claimant, and that the traveller lost his title to the horse.

"It's all very pretty," said a recently married old bachelor, who had just finished reading an essay on the 'Culture of Woman," just as a heavy milliner's bill was presented to him—"It's all very pretty, this cultivation of women; but such a charge as this for bonnets is rather a heavy top dressing—in my judgment."

A Frenchman, being about to remove his shop, his landlord inquired the reason, stating at the same time it was considered a very good stand for business. The Frenchman replied, "Oh, yes, he's very good stand for se business—by gar, me stand all day, for nobody come to make me move!"

An old lady was telling her grand children about some trouble in Scotland, in the course of which the chief of her clan was beheaded. "It was nae great thing of a head, to be sure," said the good lady, "but it was a sad loss to him."

The Saturday Review tells a story of an English clergyman, who, misled by the prevalent printing of certain Scriptural words in italic, read in a sonorous voice, with undue emphasis: "And he spake to his sons, saying, 'Saddle me the ass.'" And they saddled him."

Punch represents a six year old in Knickerbocker, seated in a barber's chair, and to him the hairdresser says: "Well, my little gentleman, and how would you like your hair cut?" Charlie—"Oh, like papa's, please—with a little round hole at the top."

Gen. Canby's Election Order.

HEADQRS SECOND MILITARY DIST.,
CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 18, 1867.

General Orders No. 101.

By the terms of the Act of Congress entitled "An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the reb l States," passed Mar h 2d, 1867, and of the Acts of March 23d, and July 19th, 1867, supplementary thereto,—it is made the duty of the Commanding General of this Military District to cause a registration to be made of the male inhabitants of the State of North Carolina, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards and qualified by the terms of said Acts to vote, and after such registration is complete, to order an election to be held at which the registered voters of said State shall vote for or against a Convention, for the purpose of establishing a Constitution and civil government for the said State, loyal to the Union, and for delegates to said Convention—and to give at least thirty days' notice of the time and place at which said election shall be held; and the said registration having been completed in the State of North Carolina, It is ordered:

First, That an election be held in the State of North Carolina, commencing on Tuesday, the 19th day of November, 1867, and ending on Wednesday, the 20th day of November, 1867, at which all registered voters of said State may vote "For a Convention," or "Against a Convention" and for delegates to constitute the Convention—in case a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a Convention, and in case a majority of the registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such Convention.

Second. It shall be the duty of the Boards of Registration in North Carolina, commencing fourteen days prior to the election herein ordered, and giving reasonable public notice of the time and place thereof, to revise for a period of five days the registration lists, and upon being satisfied that any person not entitled thereto has been registered to strike the name of such person from the list; and such person shall not be entitled to vote. The Boards of Registration shall also, during the same period, add to such registers the names of all persons who at that time possess the qualifications required by said Acts—who have not already been registered.

Third. In deciding who are to be stricken from or added to the registration lists the Boards will be guided by the law of March 2d, 1867, and the laws supplementary thereto and their attention is specially directed to the Supplementary Act of July 19th, 1867.

Fourth. The said election will be held in each County or District at such places as may hereafter be designated, under the superintendence of the Boards of Registration as provided by law and in accordance with instructions hereafter to be given to said Boards in conformity with the Acts of Congress and as far as may be with the laws of North Carolina.

Fifth. All Judges and Clerks employed in conducting said election shall, before commencing to hold the same, be sworn to the faithful performance of their duties, and shall also take and subscribe the oath of office prescribed by law for officers of the United States.

Sixth. The polls shall be opened at such voting places at eight o'clock in the forenoon and closed at four in the afternoon, of each day, and shall be kept open during these hours without intermission or adjournment.

Seventh. No member of the Board of Registration, who is a candidate for election as a delegate to the Convention, shall serve as a Judge of the election in any County or District which he seeks to represent.

Eighth. The Sheriff and other peace officers of each County are required to be present during the whole time that the polls are kept open, and until the election is completed; and will be made responsible that there shall be no interference with Judges of elections, or other interruption of good order. If there should be more than one polling place in any County, the sheriff of the County is empowered to make such assignments of his deputies, and other peace officers, to the other polling places, as may, in his judgment, best subserve the purposes of quiet and order; and he is further required to report these arrangements in advance to the Commander of the Military Post in which his County is situated.

Ninth. Violence, or threats of violence, or of discharge from employment, or other oppressive means to prevent any person from registering or exercising his right of voting, is positively prohibited, and any such attempts will be reported by the Registrars or Judges of elections to the Post Commander and will cause the arrest and trial of the offenders by military authority.

Tenth. All bar rooms, saloons, and other places for the sale of liquors by retail, will be closed from 6 o'clock of the evening of the 18th of November, until 6 o'clock of the morning of the 21st of November, 1867 and during this time the sale of all intoxicating liquors at or near any polling place is prohibited. The police officers of cities and towns, and the Sheriffs and other peace officers of Counties, will be held responsible for the strict enforcement of this prohibition, and will promptly arrest and hold for trial all persons who may transgress it.

Eleventh. Military interference with elections unless it shall be necessary to repel the armed enemies of the United States or to keep the peace at the polls," is prohibited by the Act of Congress approved February 25th, 1865 and no soldier will be allowed to appear at any polling place unless as citizens of the State they are qualified and are registered as voters, and then only for the purpose of voting; but the Commanders of Posts will keep their troops well in hand on the days of election, and will be prepared to act promptly if the civil authorities are unable to preserve the peace.

Twelfth. The returns required by law to be made to the Commander of the District of the results of this election, will be rendered by the Boards of Registration of the several registration precincts through the Commanders of the Military Posts in which their precincts are situated and in accordance with the detailed instructions hereafter to be given.

Thirteenth. The number of delegates to the Convention is determined by law and is the number of members of the most numerous branch of the Legislature for the year eighteen hundred and sixty, and this number, one hundred and twenty, is apportioned to the representative Districts of the State in the ratio of registered voters as follows:

RAILROADS.

ATLANTIC & N. C. RAILROAD
AND
GRAND TRUNK RAILROAD,

From Charlotte and all Points on the N. Carolina and its Connecting Railroads, to the Seaboard at Newbern and Morehead City.

THE STATE OWNS THREE-FOURTHS OF the North Carolina Railroad and three-fourths of the ATLANTIC & N. C. RAILROAD. This is the

STATE LINE,

To its OWN SEAPORT and on its OWN ROADS. All other lines are in opposition.

A six per cent dividend on this line will save the people from taxation $285,000 per annum.

Under a resolution of the Stockholders of the R. Railroad, all Freights are to go via Goldsboro', unless otherwise specially directed by shippers.

When at Goldsboro', you are only sixty miles from the shipping point, instead of one hundred and sixty via Weldon, and eighty via Wilmington. Our Steamers are equal to any other line, both for Freight and Travel. Time as short as by any other, and as cheap.

THIS is the Line

To ENCOURAGE. You get dispatch, safety, but one handling and less Railroad transportation than by any other line.

Three-fourths of the PROFITS made on this line go directly into the STATE TREASURY, and if encouraged, you will soon be relieved from heavy taxation at least two hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars.

The Railroads composing the N. C. GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY LINE have recently agreed to unite in a

GREAT THROUGH LINE

Routs to all the Northern Markets, on equal terms and charges, via our own ports to and from the North.

Cars run through to all points without breaking bulk.

WE inaugurated and are the Great through Inland Air Line Route to all the Northern Markets, and have successfully worked the Line to the entire satisfaction of Shippers, North and South, for the last ten years, as the ten Thousand Shippers in North and South Carolina will testify. We paid the State near Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars for her Interest in this Road—thereby saving the people from Taxation for all time to come $40 000 per year; and we unhesitatingly declare that we can and will give more dispatch to all points, North and South than any other Line.

NOTICE!

The Great Inland Air Line Freight

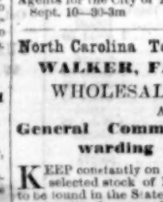
THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

This Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine



IS OFFERED TO THE Public as a ready, certain and speedy means of preventing LARGE CONFLAGRATIONS.

Until the invention of the

Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine,

Fires have been met by means too slow, too late and too cumbrous. But few persons in this country have the advantage of large hand or Steam Fire Engines, and those few often suffer a total loss of their property by reason of the great length of time consumed in sending for and getting them into working order.

BUT NOT SO WITH THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER,

which, being kept charged and standing in your House, Store or Factory, is always Ready for Instant Service.

The fire can be extinguished and your property saved without loss or damage, or even an alarm of Fire.

The first few minutes of conflagration decide the fate of the property; "a little fire is quickly put out, which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench."

THE EXTINGUISHER, being very simple in its operation, and entirely self-propelling, requires no previous skill or practice to operate it, and being so light, portable and self-acting, is capable of being used in any place, by any person, male or female.

It puts out all fires, arising from whatever cause. You are saved from the immense water damage caused by large Engines.

You can effect insurance on your property

At Lower Rates,

if protected by the Extinguisher.

The Extinguisher is no humbug, as thousands of good men in Europe and America will testify.

I have already put these little Engines into some of our best Factories and largest Schools in N. C.

No House, Store, Factory, or Corporation is safe without them.

The price is as nothing, compared with the protection they afford.

Send for a Circular.
